

COMING!

The balance of our shipment of the new

Hoosier Kitchen Cabinets

is on the way. This is the last of our allotment which can be had at the old price.

Many Have Called and Ordered in Advance

We have a few sample Hoosier cabinets left from the previous allotment. We are going to clean these up at once. Those who come first will get them. We will take orders of those who are too late for one of the Hoosiers of the shipment now on the way.

The Supply is Limited

But this last supply we are getting is not large. Come and see us at once and put in your order, for when these cabinets are gone there will be no more at this price. The war has raised the cost of materials, and after this shipment the manufacturer says

The Price MUST Advance

Remember: $1 down brings a Hoosier to your home, and $1 a week pays for it. No interest. No extras. Don't delay, thinking there will be some left. There won't be. Put in your order to-day to be certain and save money.

Miss Grace Barclay returned to her home on Park street last night after visiting friends in Claremont, N. H., for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Wynn of Lowell, Mass., arrived in the city yesterday, where Mr. Wynn will spend a short time on a business errand.

Joseph Bourlis of Westerville left this morning for Mountain View farm in East Burke, where he will be employed preparing horses for the state fair.

Miss Jessie Bowen, who has been visiting relatives in Bethel for several days, was a visitor in the city to-day while on her way to Topsham.

Miss Margaret Kittredge of Worcester, Mass., arrived in the city last night and will visit at the home of Mrs. Mary M. Barclay of Park street for a few days.

Frank G. Howland of French street returned yesterday from Burlington, where at Rock Point he attended a meeting of the Episcopal diocesan committee on the $5,000,000 pension fund for the clergy.

The infant daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Horace J. Sowles of Boston died Aug. 9 of heat prostration. The baby was only a week old. Its parents are well-known in this city, the father being the son of J. J. Sowles of Beckley hill and the mother being formerly Miss Ayis Wheeler.

Supplementary reports received here from Mrs. L. O'Keefe, whose husband was stricken with an attack of appendicitis while on a motor trip through New York, state that he is progressing favorably in his recovery from the operation performed Tuesday evening. Mr. O'Keefe is in a Haverhill, N. Y., hospital.

Last Wednesday was David Boiles' 72d birthday anniversary, and a number of his friends gathered at the home of his daughter, Mrs. R. Spaulding, on Abbott avenue. Many nice gifts were left him and refreshments of ice cream and fruit were served. Those from out of town to attend the event were Mrs. Flora Johnson, Hazel, Nathan and Nellie Johnson.

The first cow auction of the season was held for A. J. Paquet on the west hill yesterday afternoon. Twenty-six grade cows, good stock, a good crowd and a good day, fancy prices were obtained, the lowest price being $42 and the top price $100. Several sold in the eighties and the nineties, and the whole bunch averaged $63. Mr. Paquet was very much pleased with the outcome of his sale, and the buyers got their money's worth. C. F. Smith advertised and conducted the sale. Mr. Smith is in Montpelier to-day, conducting the H. M. Farnham horse sale.

Pursuant to action taken by the city council a fortnight ago, Officer Harry Gamble of the police force has been designated as deputy chief, with a substantial increase in his salary as a compensation for giving up his turn on the day shift. He has assumed the duties of the office and hereafter will be in charge of the police force after the departure of the chief at night and will act as head of the force during the absence of Chief Sinclair. Mr. Gamble is about to round out ten years of active service as a patrolman, being the oldest, in point of service, in the department, and the appointment comes to him in the nature of a promotion.

Delegates who attended the 15th annual convention of the State Federation of Labor were off for their homes on late afternoon trains yesterday and early to-day, after one of the most successful conventions in several years. The decision to meet in Rutland next year was received with favor, although most of the delegates seemed to regard seriously the suggestion that the labor men return to Barre for their annual gathering. St. Albans was also suggested as a meeting place, but after the Rutland delegate had been called in conference by the secretary-treasurer, Nelson A. Malmgren, a warm invitation to meet in the Marble city was submitted to the convention and accepted unanimously. In responding to the presentation made him at the close of the convention, F. W. Sutor, who was re-elected president, thanked the delegates heartily for the tribute.

A pair of Pullman accommodation cars arrived in the city last night and were set off on a siding in the Central Vermont yards, there to remain until they are attached to the outgoing train tomorrow afternoon at 5:55 o'clock, when sixty people from the Barre granite belt are to leave the city for Cleveland, O., under the auspices of the Granite Manufacturers' association. To-day a committee from the association set about the task of decorating the cars with bunting signs proclaiming that Barre granite's representatives are on their way to the National Retail Monument Dealers' convention in Cleveland. The signs were completed by Will Averill several days ago and have been approved by the committee. Arrangements for the send-off to be given the party by the Barre Board of Trade are practically completed.

BERLIN

The grange will serve supper to the Barre Board of Trade and ladies at the town hall Friday evening, Aug. 11, on the third of the better acquaintance tours held by the Board of Trade. After the supper, stereoscopic pictures of Barre and of the granite industry will be thrown on the screen and there will be short speeches. In addition, a small balloon will be sent up. Tickets for the supper are 25 cents each.

Miss Ruth Martin has lately visited her uncle, Thad Martin of Waltham, and is now with her cousins, Doris and Margaret Kanaly in Montpelier.

An interesting relic of olden times was found by Rev. Alven M. Smith among the papers of his father, the late David M. Smith. This is entitled, "Report of the Survey of the Gulf Route from Berlin via Montpelier to Royalton," and is a pamphlet of 12 pages printed by Lothrop & Bense, Boston, in 1845. The name of the surveyor was George Leonard, jr. A map of the survey is attached and the road comes into our village in nearly the same place as the present location of the railroad and crosses the main road between the Poole bridge and the Pratt farm, now owned by N. C. Taylor.

The social at W. V. Greason's last evening was attended by about 150 and was much enjoyed by all present. The lawn was illuminated by Japanese lanterns and was very pretty seen from the village below. Among the attractions of the evening was the playing of a bagpipes by Mr. Riddell of Barre and the dancing of the Highland fling by a young lady whose name we did not learn. Refreshments of cake and ice cream were served.
